3 Steps To Restart Success

1. Find Your People (Or, Build Your Network)
2. Analyze Your Career Assets
3. Tell Your Story

A photograph of four women from the waist down, standing on a floor covered with purple shredded paper. They are wearing different styles of floral-patterned skirts and various types of shoes. The woman on the far left wears a light blue skirt with pink and red flowers and brown perforated wedge sandals. The second woman wears a white skirt with red and blue flowers and black slip-on shoes. The third woman wears a black skirt with red and blue flowers and orange wedge sandals. The woman on the far right wears a light blue skirt with pink and red flowers and brown strappy wedge sandals. A white balloon is visible on the right side of the image. A semi-transparent grey banner with purple text is overlaid across the middle of the image.

Find Your People (Or, Build Your Network)

Old way of thinking:
“It’s not what you know, it’s who you know.”

New way of thinking :
“Who you know, is what you know.”

What You Can Learn From Your Network

- ❑ How your skills can be applied to new areas
- ❑ What skills are most desired in a given field
- ❑ The language of a particular industry or company
- ❑ What companies are hiring and in what areas
- ❑ The hidden hierarchy in a company
- ❑ The culture and values of a company

A close-up photograph of a person's hands writing in a notebook. The person is wearing a white long-sleeved shirt. The notebook is open and filled with handwritten notes and diagrams. To the left, a laptop is open, and its screen shows a reflection of the person's hand holding a pen. On the desk, there is a pen holder with several pens, a small figurine of Minnie Mouse, and a small figurine of Mickey Mouse. The background is a blurred office setting.

How Do You Get To Carnegie Hall?

A photograph of two men sitting at a table in a brightly lit room, possibly a meeting or interview. The man on the left is wearing glasses and a dark polo shirt, looking towards the man on the right. The man on the right is wearing a grey sweater and is looking back at the first man. On the table between them are a water bottle, a cup, and an open notebook. The background features large windows with blinds and a set of lockers.

Common Questions About Path Forward

Are these regular full-time jobs with benefits? Am I guaranteed a job offer at the end of the program?

Why should I apply for an internship when I have great experience?
Should I focus on finding a full-time job?

I signed up on the Path Forward site, now what?

I don't live in any of the cities where you have openings listed. When will you have opportunities in my city?

What are the criteria for being offered a Path Forward internship?

I meet the Path Forward criteria, does that mean I qualify for the job listed?

What if I don't meet ALL the job qualifications? Can I still apply?

What kind of support can I expect in the program?

How nonpaid work translates into the workforce

Running a volunteer project (PTA, religious org, community org)	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Ability to persuade using influence vs. authority• Ability to collaborate with different personalities, manage competing agendas• Focus on goals and accomplishments• Raise funds and maintain financial viability• Ability and willingness to lead
Participating in a volunteer project	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Maintain commitment to a cause despite ambiguity of roles and responsibilities• Ability to collaborate with different personalities, manage competing agendas• Manage your own performance to accomplish team's goals• Demonstrate passion and drive

Coordinating an international move	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Navigating complex bureaucracies and rules• Adhering to deadlines and schedules• Adapting to differing culture and supporting family in their adaptation• Learning a foreign language

Formatting Your Resume

- Understand how resumes get submitted
 - Formatted resumes, with centering, bullet points, tabs etc., are fine for printing and for submitting as a PDF
 - Applicant tracking systems (ATS) sometimes requiring filling in a form
 - Resumes submitted to an ATS need to be plain text: flush left, no special characters, no bullets, no tabs no formatting
- Always email PDF versions – never send anything that can be edited
- Be careful with cutting and pasting a resume into an online application!
- Double check that it didn't reformat or add wonky formatting

Using The STAR Method To Answer Interview Questions

Situation	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Set the scene with a situation that illustrates your skills and experience• Use the 5 W's: Who (Who was involved?), What (What was the challenge?), Where, When, and Why (Why did you have to overcome the challenge?)• Aim to sum up your situation in just a few sentences
Task	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Describes what you needed to achieve or the task you had to complete• Explain any obstacles or constraints
Action	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Explain the steps you took to achieve the task.• Speak specifically about what you did and use the word "I" when describing the action• If a team was involved describe your role and how you worked with others
Result	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Share the outcome of the situation• Talk about what you learned during this experience• The results could be positive or negative—in fact be sure to prepare stories of situations where something didn't work out, since that's also a common question
